Children's Home Adds Outpatient Therapy Services

Enterprise, FL – In an effort to expand our service continuum to the families and children of Florida, the Florida United Methodist Children's Home is excited to announce the addition of the Circle of Friends Services, (COFS) a non-profit community health provider, as one of our service lines. COFS will celebrate its tenth anniversary on January 6, 2019, and in those ten years has expanded to provide services in ten counties across Central Florida and the West Coast. COFS will continue its rich history of providing excellent service by growing our current continuum at FUMCH to include the following services:

- Individual/Family Therapy. Therapists use a combination of individual and family therapy to address the changing needs of the family unit as they progress toward permanency. Therapists are Adoption Competent Trained and have received extensive training in trauma treatment.
- Infant Mental Health. Therapists specially trained in working with the zero to five year old population provide early intervention strategies for children as well as their caretakers.
- Psychiatric Evaluations and Med Management (Seminole and Volusia counties only). Services are provided by a bi-lingual (Spanish), Board Certified Child Psychiatrist for children and youth 18 and younger.
- Supervised Therapeutic Visitations. Therapists mentor parents and children in a therapeutic setting to make visitation part of a healing experience.
- Comprehensive Behavioral Health Assessments. All children in the state of Florida receive this comprehensive assessment as the initial step in planning for the child's permanency. The child's developmental, medical, educational and emotional needs are all assessed as a way of developing a meaningful plan for the child's successful future.

"This means that we will now be able to expand our continuum of care and provide much needed services to more children who are dealing with abuse, neglect, and other trauma," said Kitwana McTyer, President and CEO of the Children's Home.

Barbara Defazio, one of the founders of COFS, will continue to oversee these services as the Vice President of Outpatient Clinical Services, and as part of the Leadership team of the Children's Home.
